through these doors . . .

For the 180 days in our school year, we go "through these doors." But what does our passage "through these doors" represent? What goes on behind these doors?

In class we wondered if Gaul really was divided into three parts. Rate of change problems amazed many and fascinated many more. In activities, we waited ecstatically for the yearbook to come out, and were touched with a sense of pride as the last note was held in the band concert. In athletics, we felt the excitement in the air before our crucial sectional game, and gratefully accepted the awards given for sportsmanship on the field. In the social whirl, we happily danced at the Junior Prom, and then pitched in the next day to clean up after the gala event. These were the things that made up life at St. Joseph's. These were our experiences as we ventured "through these doors . . ."

The Catholic Faith is an integral part of education at St. Joseph's. Every phase of student life at St. Joseph's is designed to develop the soul and the body of the student to prepare them for a fruitful existence in both this life and the life to come. Whether in the classroom, on the athletic field, on the dance floor, or at a club meeting, the student is ever reminded of his duty to God. The student from St. Joseph's learns that every action of the day, from sharpening a pencil to scoring the winning touchdown, and from solving an equation to giving the valedictorian address can be made a prayer if done for the greater honor and glory of God. Therefore we try to do every action, sensational or not, With The Spirit of Faith . . .

PRAYING BEFORE PRACTICE, THE BAND EXEMPLIFIES THE INFLUENCE OF FAITH ON ACTIVITIES.

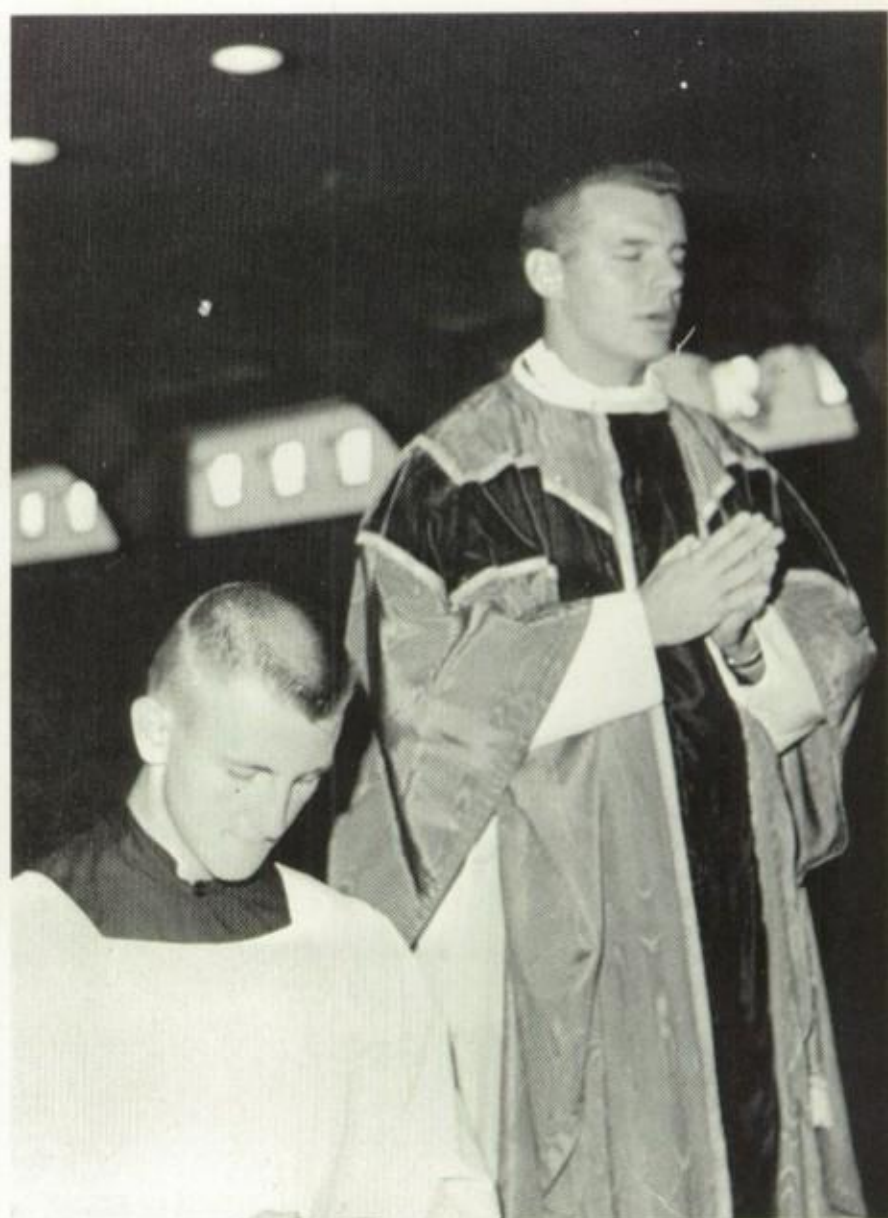

Although activities and athletics are integral parts of the school, the foundation for these parts rests in the academic vein, the primary function of the school. Meeting the challenge of matching every student's potential, the administration has provided new courses. Speed reading taps mental areas previously uncharted. Journalism class puts literary traits on a grade basis. Added tape recorders lend an invisible, invincible corrector to language classes. Popular standbys don't go unnoticed as students flirt with formulas and correct Napoleon's mistakes. Attesting to the effectiveness of this academic vigor are increased numbers of scholarship winners, surviving national competition for academic recognition. The step through these doors is very well the most important one, for it is through them that avocations are molded and futures are shaped — as we enter the realm of Learning.

BESIDES BEING CENTRALLY LOCATED in the school, the chapel is the nucleus of spiritual activity.

THE NEARNESS of the Notre Dame campus provides the students with the opportunity to visit the grotto of Our Lady of Lourdes, a landmark of the University.

with Spiritual Retreats

At St. Joseph's High School, the knowledge and practice of the Catholic faith is considered more important than anything else. Keeping this essential philosophy in mind, the students participated in many religious activities in order to enhance their spiritual growth and well-being and to supplement the religion received in class. The school year began with an opening Mass and continued with First Friday and Lenten devotions. Attendance at the Fatima Shrine Novena and frequent visits to the chapel were means of religious advancement for the student as was the annual retreat which highlighted the spiritual year. The Religious Bulletin, a weekly publication, also helped to instill in the student body a true love of God, indicative of the spirit of a Catholic education.

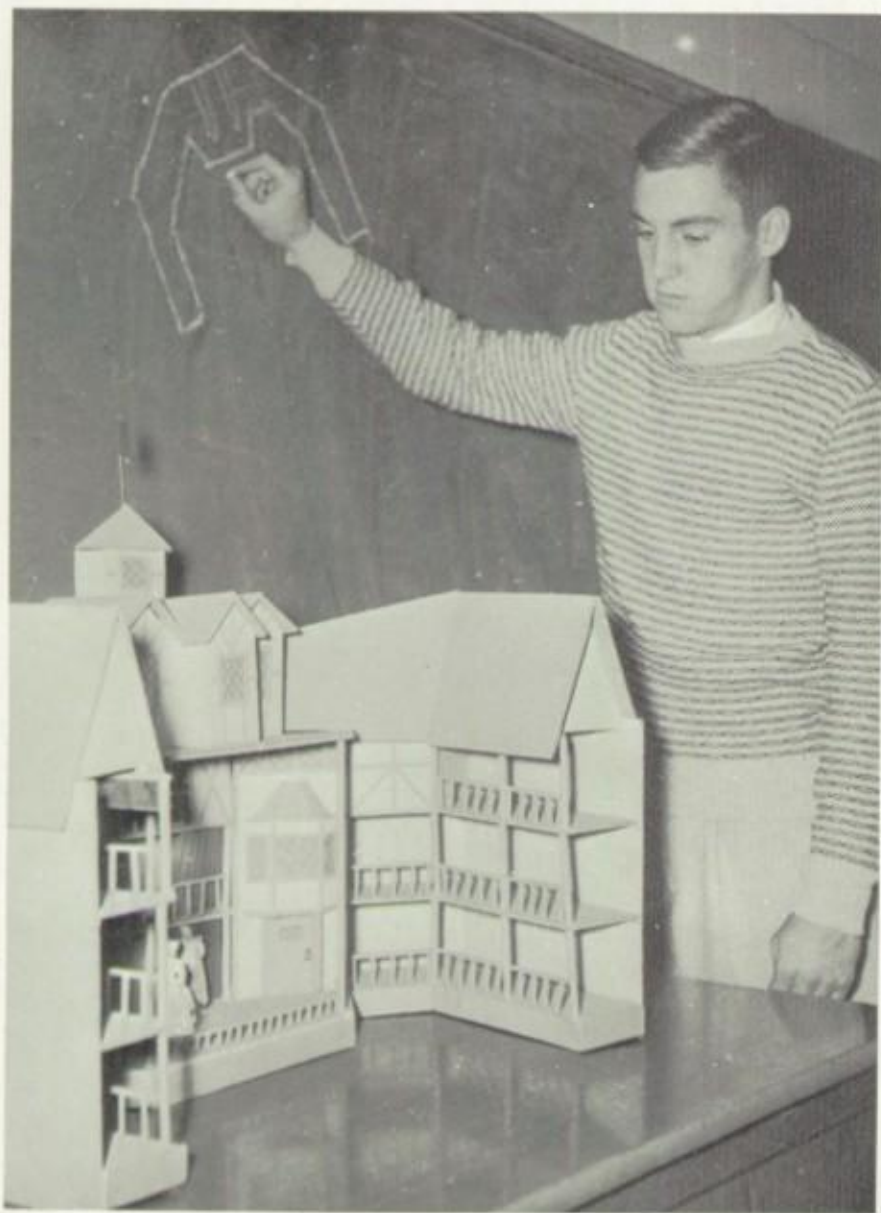

THE FATIMA SHRINE, often frequented by the students, is enhanced by the silhouette of the trees against the night sky.

Bettering Communications

with Our Fellow Men

THE MOVIE a Tale of Two Cities supplemented the girls' knowledge of English Literature, giving an additional perspective to the classic work.

The world of languages is an exciting and challenging one, for speech is our prime medium for communication. Through languages we learn more of the culture of our nation and other nations.

Latin gives us a basis for understanding several other tongues. It is sometimes considered a dead language, but it comes to life at St. Joseph's in the form of plays, skits, cards, and posters.

During the 60-61 school year, students taking French and Spanish enjoyed a new advantage, tape recorders. These permitted them to hear whether they were pronouncing the words correctly. The French students enjoyed exchanging letters with their French pen-pals.

English is a much more complicated language than we realize. Every year, however, we delve a little deeper into its many complexities. The other languages we study aid us with our English grammar and vocabulary because many English words are derived from Latin, French, or Spanish roots. A knowledge of one or more of these tongues enables us to more clearly understand the meaning of our words.

Expressing Our Creative

Practical skill in the production of beautiful things is art; many of the students of Saint Joseph's High School are taught this. The creative works of these students can be observed in activities both in and out of school.

By displaying their creations, art students played an important role in the cultural development of the school. They promoted extracurricular activities in the school with posters and banners.

Interest in creative writing has been promoted this year by the innovation of a girls' journalism class. Among their numerous undertakings are the traditional Hi-Lite, the Chieftain, and the columns in The South Bend Tribune and Our Sunday Visitor.

The music department contributed to the social calendar of the school. The marching band represented our school at home football and basketball games, local parades, and in competition. The glee club and orchestra expressed the more serious side of music through performances at the annual Pop Concert and Christmas program.

Speech contests and one-act plays at the end of the year rounded out an effective Fine Arts program.

Developing Manual Skill

In the process of acquiring a complete, well-rounded education, the students at St. Joseph's strive to gain practical experience with intellectual knowledge. Typing classes provide physical adeptness and the skill is invaluable in any avocation. The typing classes at St. Joe enjoy typing to music, which improves their rhythm — an important part of typing. Home economics classes prepare the girls for their future roles as the wives and mothers of America. Sewing classes are also beneficial. The girls enjoy making their own clothes and modeling them in the spring style show at the end of the year. The boys' shop classes work with wood, metal and other materials making many useful articles. Mechanical drawing trains the students to use precision instruments accurately. All these courses help the student to increase his knowledge by working with his hands.

Reviewing Our

Having widened our knowledge of the past, we have opened the door to better understanding of current and future problems. From the past we learned of the present. Through the history of civilizations, both ancient and modern, we have broadened our knowledge of current events. Ancient history saw primitive man working toward civilization and through our studies of the United States today we found insight into the affairs of the day.

Through World and United States History, we not only learned why things exist the way they are and how they existed in the past, but we learned why we act the way we do and why we have certain opinions of present day affairs. A vast majority of occurrences and decisions of the past, we found out, had a definite relative bearing on our daily lives.

To know the workings of our government is something for which we all have striven. More knowledge makes for better understanding and that is what we, as future adults, will need. In civics and government, our country, its intricacies and laws, were revealed to us. We discovered the purpose of laws, how they are enacted, and how they help us. To become better citizens was our aim and through social studies, we accomplished our goal.

Widening Our Scientific

At St. Joseph's, the scientific program is designed to keep up with the increasing problems around us. To create more interest in this subject, a science club was inaugurated last year. Each member illustrated his interest by means of a special project. Any student could enter a project in the first annual Science Fair which brought some of these future scientists into the limelight. These projects were entered into one of three divisions: physics, chemistry, or biology. In three fully equipped laboratories, one for each of the divisions, the students learned through experimentation and observation. Seeing the need for more and better equipment, the administration is continually improving our laboratory facilities. The most recent additions are an audio generator and electric meters. With these aids, our students will be more capable of understanding the physical world around them.

Calculating for Tomorrow

Mathematics — the most ancient of all sciences readily lends itself to the St. Joseph's student. Because it is a tool basic to almost all other sciences, it is a necessary and almost imperative subject for many students. New inventions and discoveries have led the way for a more thorough and intensive study of mathematics. Learning the intricacies of algebra, geometry, and trigonometry, while seeming an almost impossible task, will well prove their worth in this scientific age.

Keeping up with this trend of advanced knowledge, St. Joseph's now has more students than ever before in its math department. By offering a solid core of mathematical courses, the school has made it possible to better attack the problems of daily life, or to continue towards higher study of the subject. The Math Club was formed especially for those who plan advanced work. Through projects and contests it has made possible a more thorough and complete knowledge of mathematics today. The members will have many opportunities in the space age.

Lauding Honor Students

To enable the parents of last year's scholastic award recipients to share in the honor, an Awards Night was held June 3, 1960. Scholarships and citizenship awards were presented. Honor students received the customary honor certificate. In addition, those who received their third or fourth honor certificate received a school key. An award was given to one Senior girl in each subject.

The highlight of the program was the presentation of the valedictory and salutatory appointments. This was the first year each department recognized a valedictorian and salutatorian. They were Sharon DeBaets and Norman Guentert, and Christine Godersky and Lloyd Culp, respectively.

FOR EXCELLENCE IN ENGLISH, Sharon DeBaets accepts a citation from Superintendent Father John Vrabely.

A SCHOLASTIC HONOR CERTIFICATE is presented to Gerald Libertowski for his fine achievements in the past four years.

WITH ENCOURAGEMENT TO CARRY ON the school spirit and prestige, Senior President Norman Guentert hands the traditional tomahawk to William Seall, Junior President.

Name your career — St. Joseph's has a course.
Name your interest — St. Joseph's has an activity.
An array of extracurriculars is arranged so as to complement all courses of study. In these clubs, students are given a chance to experiment and delve deeper into the classroom approach, but on an informal scale. Science and chemistry clubs afford individual experimenting beyond the scope of textbooks, and through a science fair, top members are recognized. Those with a mind for melody find a musical outlet with the band. Improving by leaps and bounds, soloists as well as ensembles reap state recognition. The cream of its members is skimmed, forming a dance band interpreting the styles of the name bands. But the many hours spent on Sunday and before and after school are not in vain. Personal satisfaction and genuine enjoyment more than make the "non-credits" worth the effort — as we enter the sphere of Activities.

Balanced Sound of

Saints Echoes Success

The Saint Joseph's High School Band, under the direction of Mr. Robert Brown, has become an outstanding feature of the school. Dressed in their attractive uniforms, members of the band marched proudly onto the football field before games and at half-time. Later in the year, they played for the home basketball games.

At the start of the school year, the band marched in the largest parade in the history of South Bend — the Studebaker parade. The next big event was the annual Pop Concert which was held on November 13.

This concert featured classical and semi-classical music. The band gave another fine performance for the Christmas season on December 11. The final concert of the 1960-1961 school year was held on March 5. At this Spring Concert nearly every type of music was played.

Our band was invited to enter a number of contests this year. Among these were the State Solo and Ensemble Contest on February 4, the State Band Contest on April 15, and the Riverview Marching Contest in August.

Glee Clubs Carol For

By presenting a wide selection of fine music with a high degree of harmonic skill, the Glee Club completed another successful year. With Mr. Robert Brown once again as their director, the music minded students reached a new degree of perfection as a result of a joint effort of the boys' and girls' sections. The practices were held everyday, with the boys and girls alternating during the fifth hour in preparation for the various programs and public appearances. In conjunction with the Band, the Glee Club presented its annual Christmas program featuring a pantomime to the song "The Night Before Christmas." A solo appearance on television was followed by their participation in an hour of Christmas songs with the other four city schools.

After the first semester, work was begun on the selection of songs to be presented at the Spring Concert. The three hours of practice per week resulted in the achievement of all desired as their finale supported their reputation as a growing and integral part of the St. Joseph's Music Department.

Hi-Way Staff Builds

PHOTOGRAPHERS Andy Dincolo, Mike Bourgeois, and Joe Orban collaborate on picture schedules to meet a HI-WAY deadline.

For the second straight year, the National Scholastic Yearbook Association gave the HI-WAY the "Excellent" rating. Striving to maintain a high rating meant many long and tedious hours to all connected with the HI-WAY. To the editors the challenge of producing a better yearbook meant coping with the greatly increased enrollment and more clubs and activities while retaining the same number of pages as the 1960 book. Before school started, however, the drive for a better book was given an added push as two members of this year's staff, the editor and assistant editor, attended the High School Journalism Institute at Indiana University. They received expert advice and got a good head start on the book. Once the school term began, picture schedules had to be made, and more difficult, met. Then too, there is the everpresent, unpredictable set of bad breaks. The geometry picture on page 20 was taken four times before a useable photo was obtained. To the staff, the 1961 HI-WAY meant numerous holidays spent in the yearbook room, typing, cropping pictures and writing captions. To Brother Ronald La Londe, moderator, it meant organizing the staff and approving and advising as important decisions arose. But all these efforts reaped a full return when the finished product was first seen and a jubilant staff member chimed, "Hey, I wrote that caption!"

RELAXING FOR A MOMENT are the HI-LITE page editors: Mary Margaret McLane, Genevieve Baker, Carol Stachon, Nancy Scherrieb, Pat Bauer, and Donna McLain.

From behind closed doors and covered windows emerges our school newspaper, the Hi-Lite. Much planning and hard work on the part of Sister Zita Marie, the paper's moderator, and the page editors go into our paper. As a result of the staff's untiring efforts, the 1959-60 Hi-Lite was awarded first honors by the Catholic Press Association.

The paper benefitted from the staff's trips to various conventions. Last summer five of the twenty-two members of the Hi-Lite staff attended the Indiana University Journalism Institute. Certain members of the staff also went to the National Journalism Institute last fall at Marquette University, Milwaukee, Wisconsin.

Some of the innovations that are being introduced for the first time this year are: The use of regular newsprint instead of the glossy finish that was used in previous years, a four page monthly edition, printing of articles written by the girls' journalism class, and more student opinion polls.

BOYS' MISSION CLUB: Brother Gerard Mason, moderator; Don Sieg, vice-president; Jim Tschechtelin, president; John Szabo, secretary; John Lehner, treasurer.

An Active Mission Club

St. Joseph's is deeply interested in the future of the foreign and home missions. This is shown by the added activities to increase their financial support. Under the guidance of their moderator, Brother Gerard Mason, C.S.C., the members donate much time and valuable assistance toward the aid of the needy missions. The annual Pop Concert is the major benefit sponsored by the club. This, together with the weekly collection in the homerooms, provides the body of finances for the mission cause. The students have a special incentive in the collections due to Brother James Greteman's presence in the Ghana mission field. Last year, Brother taught math here in the Boys' Department.

The girls, also, led by Sister Mary Nazareth, C.S.C., in their desire to aid the underprivileged people of the world, contributed greatly to the success of these endeavors. By sending food and clothing to Pakistan and supplies to medical missionaries, as well as aiding the home missions, they upheld their reputation of having a keen interest in the mission field.

Science and Math

In the years gone by, high school courses in mathematics and science were taken mainly for their value in mental training. Now in the space age, their study comprises a vital part of the average high school curriculum. In fact, the more avid students of these subjects find that their courses are not satisfying their keen appetites for more knowledge. For this reason, St. Joseph's makes available to its future scientists and mathematicians the Science and Mathematics Clubs through which the members can find the additional work they desire.

These organizations enable their members to explore their favorite fields in a more exact and a more interesting manner. They take on a new meaning as they are viewed in a different light. Ideas, facts, and laws that had previously been accepted without question now fall into place as logical deductions and thus dispurse any lingering doubts about the reasoning behind mathematics and science. The members soon find that mathematics is not the same subject that they recall from grade school, nor is science something far away from the average man but is as commonplace as a baseball game or table salt. The Science and Mathematics Clubs offer their members the chance for a greater understanding of these intricate fields, and the opportunity for future scientists, engineers, and mathematicians to get acquainted with their fields, helping them on the road to success.

AN EXPLANATION of the modern gas miracle is presented by Jack Varso.

Wheels whirred, rockets roared, lights flashed, and chemicals fizzed as the first Science Fair in St. Joseph's history took place on April 26, 1960. Each eager, young scientist taking part in the competition, keenly tried to outdo the other as they vied for prizes in one of the four fields of endeavor: chemistry, mathematics, biology, and physics. These divisions were grouped into two main headings — the Senior group, which was composed of juniors and seniors, and the Junior group, composed of freshmen and sophomores. Four prizes were given in each field and both boys and girls had the two groupings, making 32 prizes available. The whole project was the result of the work of Brother Noel Romanak, C.S.C., who not only hoped to make the event an annual affair, but also, hoped to set up some kind of Science Fair system in the local parochial grade schools. Several outstanding scientists and prominent citizens of the local area judged the Fair. This year, Mr. Malone, who has assumed the teaching responsibilities of Brother Noel, has promised us an equally good fair on March 14, 1961.

Bi-monthly meetings of the Appreciation Club prove a most enjoyable experience for its forty-five members. The meetings are held in the Little Theater under the moderation of Miss Rosenheimer and Mr. Robert F. Brown.

Providing listening enjoyment with a flair for a furtherment of musical knowledge and comprehension was the aim of the club. Musical knowledge was gained as the club began by studying and listening to musical comedies and other contemporary works. This knowledge was advanced by study of operetta and light opera, followed by grand opera, considered by some to be the ultimate in musical expression. The drama aspect of the club was just initiated this year.

An appreciation for music, its history, and composition, was cultivated by all during the club's school year duration.

Supplementing Cultural Interests

Students at St. Joseph's High School who have a special interest in either history or literature may participate in the Humanities Club. The club meets bi-monthly to discuss the various aspects of history and literature under the supervision of Brother William Kleynenberg, C.S.C. At many meetings a guest speaker lectures to the club members and discusses the topic with them. One of the more enjoyable speakers was Joseph Meany Jr., the only American crew member of the Mayflower II on its maiden voyage from England to the United States.

A project initiated by the club this year is the publication of a booklet containing writings of the students at St. Joseph's. It contains the better poems, short stories, plays, and themes by our student body.

Educational Interests Expanded

Encouragement, leadership, practical knowledge and experience, scholarship, character, understanding, and service are the aims of the Future Teachers' Club at St. Joseph's. The club, under the direction of Sister Mary Josile, is a branch of the National Future Teachers of America. Guest speakers, movies, and pamphlets provide the prospective teachers with an opportunity to explore the different fields of this career. Members of the club render various services to their school and community, preparing themselves for a place among the molders of America's future.

Future Nurses Consider Careers

At each of the monthly meetings of the Future Nurses Club, a guest speaker talks to the girls on their prospective profession. The meetings are again supervised by Mrs. Hill, a registered nurse.

Among the activities of the club are services rendered as a "Candy Striper," so named because of the pink and white striped uniforms. Two hours a week-end are spent by each member feeding and cheering up the patients at the hospital. Doing this, the girls gain first-hand experience for their future work. Each year fund-raising drives are carried on to help a worthy senior further her education in nursing.

Working to attain the "Future Nurses Pin" is an added incentive this year. Enough hours as a "Candy Striper" or in other welfare work will merit this pin at the annual Florence Nightingale Ceremony.

CANDY STRIPERS, Sharon Tiedge and Carolyn Gamble check in at the desk before going on their shift at St. Joseph's hospital.

In every school, there are certain students who rank as outstanding among their classmates. Those who display the attributes of scholarship, leadership, good character, and service to their school should rightly be distinguished before their fellow students. For this reason, the National Honor Society was created.

At St. Joseph's, the Josephite (Boys) and the Our Lady of Victory (Girls) Chapters of the NHS are made up of those students whose contributions to the school have merited them the honor of membership in the Society, but St. Joseph's National Honor Society chapters are not just honorary organizations. As they are made up of active members, so are they active, helping the school in its endeavors to produce the well-rounded student. For example, the Josephite Chapter carries on a tutoring program, sponsors a dance, and provides the refreshments at all the school dances. Activity and leadership spice the lives of the members of the National Honor Society as they do their best to make their school the best.

The efforts of the Boys' and Girls' Senates have, again this year, as in the past, succeeded in developing better understanding between the faculty and student body. The members of each Senate work to promote the best interests of St. Joe and to lead the school in progress.

The Boys' Senate, directed by moderator Brother Viator C.S.C. and Senate president Tim Woods, held frequent meetings in order to plan their projects for the year, including dances, the publication of the annual Student Directory, and the Christmas food drive.

Sister Mary Francis Borgia was the new moderator this year of the Girls' Senate. With her assistance, Senate president Marian Ladd directed the meetings every first and third Tuesday of the month after school. In order to raise money, the members initiated the selling of the programs at the home basketball games for a nickel each.

The Senate members — representatives from every home room and the class presidents — and the moderators, Brother Viator and Sister M. Francis Borgia, have given their time throughout the year to improve our school.

In the first two years of a high school education, a problem presents itself that bothers many people throughout their lifetime — how to speak to a large group of total strangers. To help remedy this situation, St. Joseph's holds annual Freshman and Sophomore Declamation Contests in which underclassmen compete in public speaking. Those that survive eliminations in their English classes speak before their entire class in the finals. Although there may be no future great orators in these contests, the experience and poise thus gained certainly adds to the contestants' speaking potentials.

The nickname Indians may well be changed to Fighting Indians as the teams from St. Joseph's battle in top brackets for pole position. In seeking a liberal education, a well-developed body is as important as a well-developed mind. Thus, the horizon for athletic endeavor is wide, catering to the needs of all. Intramural basketball and wrestling allow the backyard pro to compete with classmates. Girls' gym classes stress poise and grace as well as soundness of body. But the organized teams grabbed the public spotlight. Our fighting eleven increased in depth and dimension as they faced a more critical teacher — tougher opposition. With a sectional victory in the past and higher hopes for another in the future, the mention of the Saints strikes fear into area basketball teams. Revolving around each team nucleus is the student body, faithfully cheering and urging their cohorts to turn the tide from defeat to victory — as we enter the field of Sports.

ANOTHER BATTER bites the dust as Ed Hanyzewski splits the plate with a perfect strike.

Way to a Winning Season

Off to a slow start, losing five of their first six games, our St. Joseph Indians rebounded in mid-season by putting together a six game winning streak. Combining fine pitching with tight defensive play, our diamond men proved their skill by defeating some of the best teams in the city, included in these are such teams as Riley, Central, and Elkhart. Our team had considerable offensive power as can be seen by the scores of the winning games. Our booming bats were led by the trio of Dick Witucki, Tony Modory, and Jim Mollison, who blasted out a long homerun apiece. Our well-rounded mound staff was paced by Ray Lubawy, Dick Witucki, and Lenny Dominello, who each compiled a 2-0 record. In the city tournament, St. Joseph's had a good chance of winning and was considered by many to be the team to beat, but the Indians met with some bad luck in their first game and lost a well-fought battle to Central 4-3. The several underclassmen who played last year will give our 1961 team a solid nucleus to build upon. With such a potential, our team will be, as in the past, a power to be reckoned with in South Bend.

Young Tennis Team Finishes 1-6

St. Joseph's Tennis team, depleted by graduation, struggled its way to a 1-6 record this season. The Indians dropped the first four meets to Dowagiac 0-7, Plymouth 1-6, Culver 0-7, and Niles 0-7. Upon meeting Niles the second time, however, the score was a close 3-4. After dropping the next match to Goshen's undefeated squad, the Saints were rained out twice against a weak Buchanan team and once against Goshen and Dowagiac each. The St. Joe net-men entered their last meet against Howe, determined not to lose. In this contest the team romped to the tune of 6-1.

Judging from the general improvement of the team this year and the fact that all but two players are coming back, the Indians are looking forward to a bright season next year.

Cindermen Take Defeat in Stride

The last year's track team overcame many obstacles in surging forward to a well-deserved, hard-fought, and successful season. Coach Dick Hendricks combined skill and leadership in his efforts to maintain the high standing of St. Joseph's High School in track circles. Seniors Ed Richart, Joe Dierickx, and Frank Maxwell were outstanding contributors to the team. With great, undying spirit, the harriers gave their best all season long in effort and sportsmanship while facing stiff competition. Having such other fine performers as Pat Bajdek, Bob Samora, Stan Przybysz, Bob Elli, and Walt West to bolster the team, the cindermen struggled to attain a mediocre record. The unglamorous totals of one win, four losses, and two ties do not, in reality, depict an accurate picture of the track story. With excellent and promising talent coming up, the outlook remains bright for St. Joseph's track hopes in the future.

Spirited 11 Roll to 6-4 Season

St. Joseph's savage Indians fought to a respectable 6-4 season record for 1960 against tough local talent and strong out-of-state competition. The combined efforts of the team members and the coaching staff brought about a fine football year culminating in a winning record.

In the opening game of the year, Elkhart's Blue Blazers squeezed by the Indians for a 13-6 triumph. All the scoring took place in the first half, with St. Joe's score coming on a fourth down bootleg by Ken Horvath. The final Blazer touchdown resulted from a pass that slid through the hands of two St. Joe defenders into the grasp of the Elkhart end for an 80 yard score.

Two fumbles and a poor punt by the Mishawaka Cavemen paved the way for St. Joe's 19-13 victory. Fullback Pat Gallagher smashed over from the one-yard line for the first tally. After recovering a Maroon fumble on the Caveman 38, the Indians marched to a second score with a Horvath-to-Hanyzewski pass for the touchdown. Another recovered fumble resulted in the final Indian score.

The Indians scored an easy win over county rival, New Carlisle, 28—0. St. Joe's first team scored three first half touchdowns and then gave way to the reserves in the second half.

St. Joe ran into a team of fighting Irish from Fort Wayne CC and came out on the short end of a 27—6 score. The explosive power of the Irish offense was too much for the Indians to contain.

Pint-sized Ken Woodka, starting at the quarterback post for the first time, sparked the Indians to a 21-14 triumph over South Bend Riley. He scored two of the three touchdowns and masterminded St. Joe's powerful ground attack.

St. Joe ran into the top-rated team in Michigan Class A ball, Grand Rapid's CC, and the Cougars amply demonstrated their talents in a 39-7 conquest. The Indians were simply outmanned by the smoothest football machine seen at School Field this season.

In a game played during a driving rainstorm, the Saints put together a determined touchdown drive late in the final period to obtain a 6-0 victory over Hammond's Bishop Noll.

Northern Indiana Conference co-champion, Washington, evened the Indian record at 4-4 after a bitterly contested battle. St. Joe was in the game all the way and could have won with a few breaks, however, the final outcome was 13—0 in favor of Washington. After a Panther touchdown in the first half, the two teams settled down to stout defensive work throughout the rest of the game.

The Indians initiated their first homecoming football game by outplaying highly-regarded Muskegon CC for a well-deserved 7—0 triumph. St. Joe clearly dominated the contest scoring two touchdowns, one of which was called back, and penetrating deep into CC territory on two other occasions. Three minutes before halftime, the Indians chalked up their first score on a crowd-pleasing 31 yard touchdown pass from Ken Horvath to sophomore Mike Donaldson. St. Joe threatened continually, but the Crusaders defense stiffened on every drive to stop any further scoring.

In the season's finale, St. Joe pushed over a touchdown with only 13 seconds to go in the first half and then hung on for a 7—6 victory over Penn. Ken Woodka scored the all-important extra point when he picked up a bad center on an attempted kick and ran the ball into the end-zone.

In any athletic program, the student body must be incorporated into the spirit of competition if there is to be a winning team. Preceding the major athletic contests of the season, the students gather in the gymnasium to prove to the team that they are backing them to victory.

Each class, the Student Senate, and the athletic department, sponsors an assembly. There is a competition among the groups to build up more "will to win" than any of the other sponsors.

Skits, guest speakers, and new cheers, all lend variety and vigor to the assemblies. The first assembly, sponsored by the Seniors, featured a mock political convention which elected the head football coach, Mr. Walter Moore, "President of the Indians." The Juniors sponsored the first outside assembly. The Sophomores brought forth a blundering portrayal of the Washington team and rousing speeches by Co-Captain Joe Quigley and Coach Wally Moore.

These "pep" assemblies were colorful and boasted the morale of both team and student body.

The return of five members from last year's sectional championship team placed great expectations upon the 1960-61 St. Joseph basketball team. The Indians, mindful of what was expected of them, put together a lot of natural talent and constant hustle and used the resulting combination to run up a splendid 15-5 record for the regular season. The season was especially exciting due to the many games that were decided by only a few points.

Starting off on the right foot, the team took an easy triumph over Griffith. Any hopes for an undefeated season disappeared with the second game against South Bend Central. In this game, the Indians, trailing the Bears by as much as 31 points at one time, staged a tremendous fourth quarter rally that fell only 5 points short. Wins against South Bend Washington and Hammond Noll preceded St. Joe's heartbreaking loss to Riley 54-52. The Indians won hard-fought contests against Niles and Hammond Morton, as they prepared for the South Bend Holiday Tournament. In the first game of the tourney, St. Joe rolled over hapless Penn by a score of 79-44. The Indians faced their old nemesis, Riley, in the battle for the tourney championship, and once again the Wildcats sneaked by for a 2 point victory on a last second basket 53-51. Fired up by this second straight loss to Riley, the Indians then embarked upon a 7 game winning streak that included victories over city rival Adams by 1 point, and highly-regarded Concord by 3 points.

It took a terrific last quarter rally by the number two rated team in the state, Indianapolis Cathedral, to break the Indian win streak 67-54. St. Joe led almost all the way during the first three periods, but the score was tied at 32 all starting the last quarter.

After a rather easy win over Lakeville, St. Joe was caught looking ahead to the sectionals by Penn. The Kingsmen, who were trounced earlier by the Indians, pulled off a surprising upset to the tune of 42-38.

Favored by an easy draw, St. Joe was the pre-tourney choice of many sportswriters to repeat as the champs of the Mishawaka Sectional. Due to a cold shooting eye and a touch of tourney jitters, the Indians were upset by the host team in the first game, bringing a disappointing end to an otherwise successful season.

ANOTHER TWO POINTS are tallied to Ken Horvath's record as four Niles defenders look on helplessly.

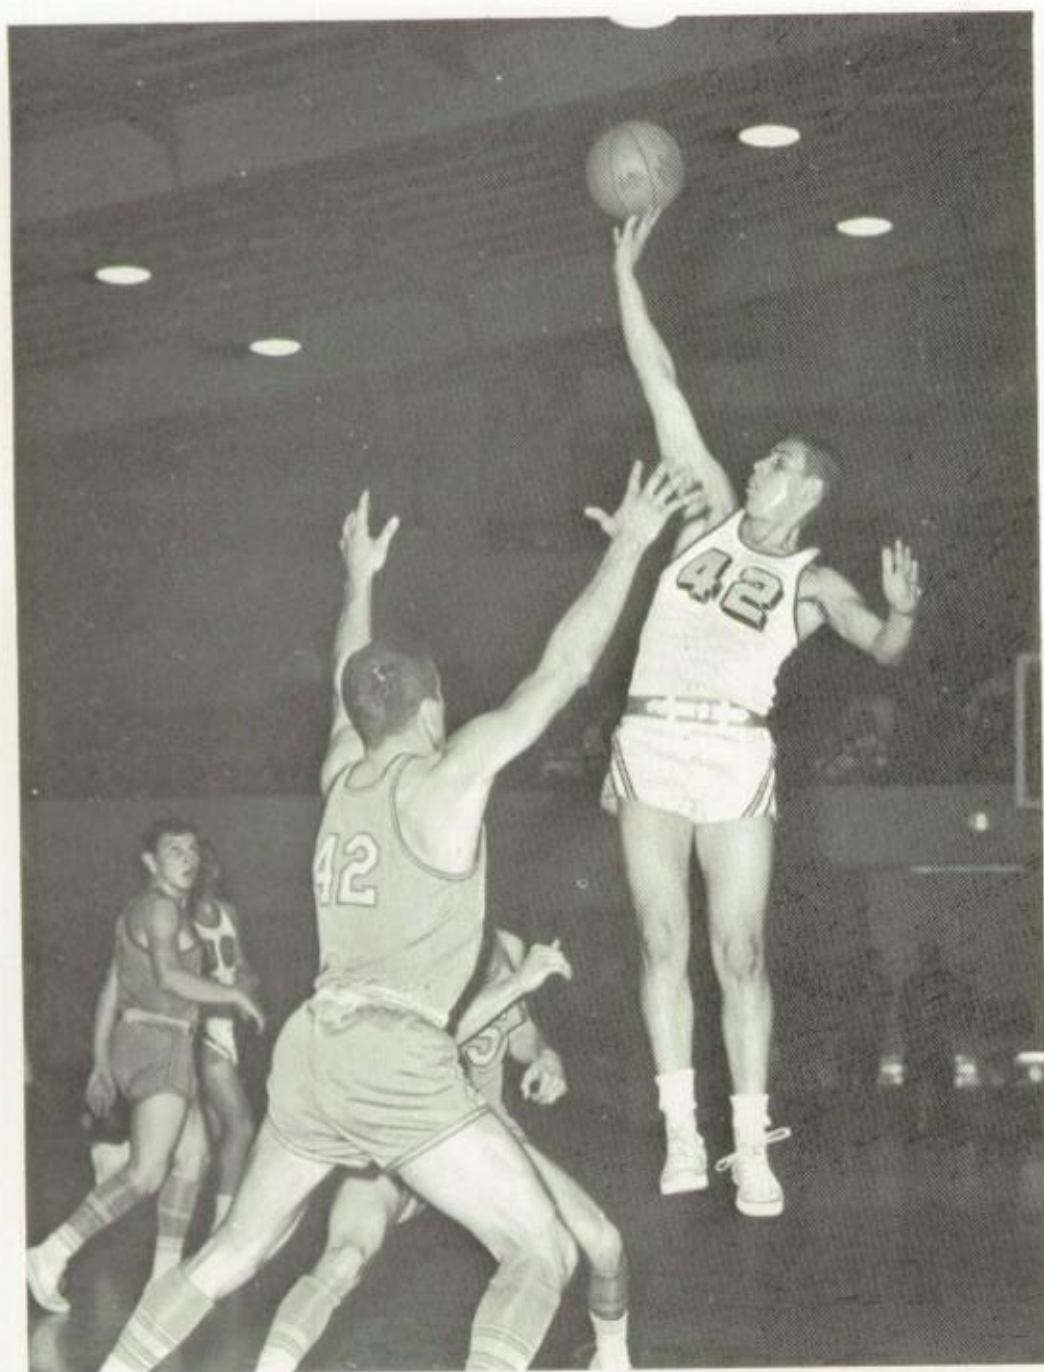

FAST AND FURIOUS action earmarked the Washington game. The Saints bounced from behind to win in the final seconds.

Athletes

In recognition of its athletes, St. Joseph's held the athletic banquet on March 6, 1960. Mr. Chuck Sweeney, once a famed football player and now a noted football official, served as toastmaster, introducing Mr. Krause, Mr. Doyle, and other speakers. Main topic of discussion was the recent capture of the Sectional title by the St. Joe basketball team.

Among those in attendance at the 1960 athletic banquet were men who, this year, became the senior lettermen. Forming the nuclei of our athletic teams, they shouldered the burdens of responsibility, bringing the teams through fine, winning seasons.

Symbolizing their success in athletics, the sports participants could proudly display their letter, the big "J", representing an athletic program of the highest caliber.

Once more the school's intramural program fell into full swing in the spirit of the season.

Twelve Junior and twelve Senior basketball teams pounded onto the floor under the supervision of Mr. Gene Knutson. The early risers were constantly competing for top honors in the double elimination tourney. Winners from each division played in a grand finale, preceeding the Indianapolis Cathedral St. Joseph's game. The Seniors triumphed, taking a 42-28 decision from the Juniors to capture the intramural hardwood championship.

With the perserverance and strength of ancient gladiators, the intramural wrestlers grappled through another season on the mats. The strong desire to win prevailed in the minds and hearts of all and it was this that provided keen competition for the interested spectators. The struggle to the top was difficult, for the competitors were very evenly matched and those who won the glory were deserving of it for the job well done.

The intramural season finally came to a close, the winners proud of their accomplishments, the losers sorry that they had to throw in the towel.

At St. Joseph's, students are invited to live the social life. Recognizing it as a necessary trait to the development of one's total character, dances and mixers were held. It took the Playland Ballroom to contain the swarming cheering fans after the inaugural homecoming football game. But the social scene is more than sock hops. The Senior Smoker promotes student-faculty relations as bunco sharps compete for prizes. Band concerts are a musical treat for a spring Sunday afternoon. Proms and the Mardi Gras pulled the most attention, but the events themselves were only half the fun. Trimming the cafe into another world, committees madly toiled almost until dance time. Anxious chairmen buzzed their charges. Will that paper lantern stay up? Is that hedge in people's way? So be it ordering at Azar's or twisting crepe paper for the Senior Ball, we meet our kind — as we enter the world of Social Living.

Hops Make Fridays Fundays

Leaving the problems of books and homework behind, the students of St. Joseph's High flitted off to many nights of music and fun.

Starting the year off right was the "Fall Roundup," a dance presented by the Seniors to achieve unity among classmates.

At the "Freshman Mixer" and Roller Skating Party, the Frosh were initiated into the social whirl of high school. At their "Sophomore Mixer," the second-year students renewed friendships made during their first year. The Juniors and Seniors enjoyed coke parties which helped unify class spirit. The senior boys played bunco at their "Smoker," a party which is their privilege as Seniors.

In February came the big dance — the Mardi Gras given by the Seniors for the entire school. This dance provided the enchantment of a New Orleans Mardi Gras.

Closing the doors on a wonderful year were nights of loveliness, the Junior Prom and the Senior Ball.

OUTNUMBERED AND SURROUNDED, Don Bullock gives in to the atmosphere of fun at the Senior Coke Party.

The first highlight of the year's social calendar was ushered in by the Seniors with grace and class. Work for the annual semi-formal began long before the decorations were made or put up. General chairmen Janice Urbanski and Bruce Balha, working in unison with class sponsors, Sister Andrew and Brother William, decided upon a New Orleans' Mardi Gras theme. A crepe paper ceiling, chandeliers, and candelabra transformed the gym into one of New Orleans' better ballrooms.

Carrying the theme out, the cafe was remolded into a French Quarter cafe. Music, provided by members of the recently formed school dance band, played for an overflow crowd from 9 to 12, as the 1961 Mardi Gras quickly drew to a climax.

SILVER STREAMS of the artificial fountain depict the enchantment of Central Park at the Junior Prom.

with Gala Festivities

The social life of the upperclassmen was culminated last spring by the Junior Prom and Senior Ball.

A Central Park theme was presented by the Juniors and flowers greeted them as they entered the lobby. Live ducklings splashed in their pond; flowers and park benches decorated the sides. A band pavilion, a glittering fountain, and the shrine of the Blessed Mother shared the floor with the couples, who danced to the music of Lew Gorce. Mary Ann Dunn and Al Papai were crowned queen and king.

"Gardens of Granada" transported the senior couples to a Spanish dreamland. Water splashed both inside and out in fountains surrounded by colored lights. A garden theme was carried out in the center of the gym floor with a spreading tree, a bird bath, and white wrought-iron lawn chairs. Shades of pink and lavender prevailed on the stage. The Lettermen provided the music for the swaying couples. Irene Klabusich and Tom White presided over the evening as queen and king.

Album Section

Between 8:00 and 3:00 during the day, the school bristles with activity. The faculty and students give the school a varied and thriving personality. Without these people the school is a cold building with no warm life coursing through its corridors. Therefore, the people are the substance that make the school what it is and gives life to to the building. This can be seen if one compares the crowded noisy halls at noon with the desolate, echoing halls after the people have gone. This Album Section presents these people.

ADMINISTRATION: Brother Reginald Justak, C.S.C., Principal; Sister Mary of Good Counsel, C.S.C., Vice-Principal; Father John Vrabely, Superintendent.

School Administration

The administration of Saint Joseph's High School makes sure that every student is given a well-rounded education — one that will provide both spiritual and material benefits for the student in future years, and it is for this reason that the administration labors long and hard. Besides directing the academic affairs of the school, Brother Reginald and Sister Mary of Good Counsel must guide all the students toward a spiritual goal. The school unity and organization is preserved by our superintendent, Father Vrabely.

We owe a debt of gratitude to these three: Father John Vrabely, superintendent; Brother Reginald Justak, our principal; and Sister Mary of Good Counsel, our vice-principal for their devotion to their jobs.

In any group of people, those with the most experience and seniority become the natural leaders. The Senior Class is responsible, then, for making desirable changes and continuing advantageous traditions.

The Class of '61 has brought forth innovations that have become widely known as "Senior Firsts." They introduced a fight song to bolster the spirit of the student body. In order to promote the efficiency of various projects, the Seniors have introduced the Executive Committee to their student government. The class also resurrected the tradition of elaborate pep assemblies with the "Convention Assembly" rejuvenating student support. Determined not to let their precious memories slip by, a documentary film captured this — their greatest year.

PRESERVING FOREVER the action of the team, Jerry Claeys and Mike Bourgeois take a sequence for the Senior-Sponsored documentary film of the 60-61 school year.

Nancy Billisitz, vice-presidents; Tom Wargo and Jeanne Parrish, secretaries; Frank Kromkowski and Judy O'Daffer, treasurers.

The Class of 1962 sighed in unison. After two years of looking up to seniors and juniors, they were the ones who would be looked up to. Now they had to give good example instead of taking it. New privileges were acquired but there were also new duties and responsibilities. Many of them discovered that upperclassmen had to work harder than in the previous two years both in academics and activities. During their junior year these students found themselves in a maze of activities. Those who volunteered to work on the highlight of their social year found that there was much to do in preparation for the Junior Prom. Another mark of the Class of 1962 was a preparation in leadership, because after this quick year of transition they would become the leaders at St. Joseph's High School.

LETTING HIS HOMEWORK GO until homeroom period tomorrow, Ed Thirion talks over week-end plans with Punkie Rodriguez.

Sophomores Stabilize for Future

The Sophomore Class, as always, is a class filled with high hopes and eager anticipation. Having shut the door on their freshman year, they eagerly open the door leading to the second year of their higher education. This year in high school is perhaps the most difficult because, as Sophomores, they are no longer "green Frosh," yet neither are they privileged upper-classmen. They are expected to conduct themselves as mature students and future upper-classmen, but they do not enjoy the advantages and honors of the Juniors and Seniors. As Sophomores, they anxiously look forward to their first assembly and the first sport dance. Under the careful guidance of their able sponsors, Sister M. Robertina, C.S.C., and Brother Donald Burkhard, C.S.C., mistakes are few and far between.

In spite of all trials and tribulations, the Sophomore Class, as did all its predecessors, will develop into mature Juniors, thus ending the second year of their high school education.

SOPHOMORE CLASS SPONSORS: Sister M. Robertina, C.S.C., and Brother Donald Burkhard, C.S.C.; Sharon Miller and Hugh O'Malley, vice-presidents.

TIRED AND FOOTSOKE, two retired skaters passively watch as their classmates roll by.

Frosh Number Record-breaking 543

Ladewski, vice-president; Thomas Gerencher, vice-president. (Absent: Anne Talboom).

At the beginning of the school year, the Freshmen made their debut at St. Joseph's. At first they were merely a bewildered group of newcomers who saw before them four of the most important years of their lives. Eventually the feeling of insignificance faded away as they slowly realized that their class was as essential to the school as any other.

This is the year that decides their course. An important aspect in the development of maturity in Freshmen is the greatly expanded range of social life. New friendships, unfamiliar activities, and enriching experiences help to make this first year hurry by. Before they realize it, the Freshmen are caught up in the whirl of high school life. This year is the period when the fledgling finds his wings and checks his ability before he goes soaring off into the stratosphere of life.

Acknowledgments

The members of the 1961 HI-WAY staff wish to express their appreciation to those who contributed to this book's publication. Faculty moderator, Brother Ronald La Londe, C.S.C., provided invaluable production aid and advice in crucial problems. Mr. Raymond Patnaude of McDonald Studio consistently and patiently lent a hand with the photographic angle. As representative of our printer, American Yearbook Company, Mr. Robert Albertson gave much financial and technical counsel. Finally, a sincere thanks to all those who have assisted in the minute details which make such a book as this possible.

into the World

We have gone "through these doors" into the realm of learning, the sphere of activities, the field of sports, and the world of social-living; and having reaped a full harvest of their benefits, we again walk across the same threshold, but this time, Into The World.

Best of luck in the future
Remember all the fun
we had in band and I hope you go far in the music field.

Love ya,
Kathy
